

Arctic Orienteering EC-O Event Results, Wednesday June 26, 2002

Jen Joliff and Ian Moore clearly ran away with the fastest time in the ECO Challenge 5.5-kilometer orienteering meet in the Campbell Tract. Their run time was 45:38 and they answered all 13 natural history questions correctly for a 13-minute discount or total elapsed time of 32:38. Doug and Bryce Knock ran the fastest ECO-Lite 3.1-km race in 43:00. They answered 8 of 9 questions correctly for an 8-minute deduction and a total elapsed time of 35:00.

The answers for the ECO Lite race follow. Control #1 had 3 birdcalls, which were the common loon, black-capped chickadee, and bald eagle. ECO-Lite #2 featured a white spruce. At control #3 in the saddle we had alder. In the small clearing at control #4 we had dwarf dogwood or bunchberry. At control #5 in a small depression the big white-barked tree was a paper birch. Humans constructed the double-hole fox pit at control #6. The prickly plant at control #7 was devil's club.

Answers for the ECO Challenge were as follows. The best answer for the scat at control #1 was coyote. Control #2 featured the birdcalls as with the ECO Lite control #1. The pit at control #3 was lined with moss. The plant on the hilltop with control #4 was Labrador tea. The thorny plant at control #5 was wild rose. Moose browsed the large willow at control #6. The last 5 controls on this course were the same as controls 3-7 on the ECO Lite course: alder, dogwood, birch, humans, and devil's club.

Results with time deductions for correct answers to natural history questions follow. We will let you determine who was fastest solo male or female runner versus the fastest teams.
